

Thomas Creek Alpacas

Starting with a high quality foundation herd, and concentrating on conformation and fleece through carefully selected breedings, and then adding a huge dose of passion and loving care, Thomas Creek Alpacas have quietly assembled their dream.

Breeding the highest quality alpacas is far more than an investment for Mike and Lisa Adams - it is a passion.

Often accused of treating their alpacas better than they treat themselves, Mike and Lisa are committed to raising quality alpacas and providing their customers with the knowledge and insight necessary to promote and encourage their success in the alpaca industry.

Visitors are always welcome, but please call ahead.
